Printing & perforating services

Kevin Blackston, proprietor of Philosateleian Post, is pleased to offer pinhole perforating services to other artistamp creators and local post operators. You may submit your printed stamps for perforating, or let us handle the printing, too. Philosateleian Post—taking your mail from hither to thither!

- 1) By submitting this form, you certify that you own the rights to or have permission to use any submitted artwork, and that you accept full responsibility for its use.
- 2) Printed stamps or prepared artwork must be arranged to allow for continuous straight lines of perforations. The maximum length of paper that can be perforated is 14 inches.
- 3) All stamps submitted for perforating must be printed on ungummed or dry-gummed paper. Self-adhesive papers and stickers will be returned unperforated.
- 4) Official (government-issued) stamps and reproductions thereof, as well as stamps promoting illegal or immoral activities, will be returned unperforated.
